"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, it enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

HAU CONDEMNED.

Karl Hau, was condemned to death in Carlsruhe yesterday morning after a five day trial, for the murder of his wife's mother, Frau Molitor, a wealthy resident of Baden-Baden, in that city November 6 last.

The prisoner heard the verdict of the jury with perfect composure and chatted smilingly with his counsel after the judges withdrew to fix his sentence.

Upon the return of the Judges Hau arose, and, standing erect, with folded arms, listened to the sentence without moving a muscle. A moment later he was hurried away to prison by half a dozen policemen. The sentence is unpopular with the street crowds, which have been demonstrating more and more openly for several days in Hau's favor and against the Molitor family,

After the adjournment of the court for an hour's recess at 8 o'clock last evening the women of the Molitor party were compelled to remain in one of the offices of the courthouse, because it was dangerous for them to appear in the streets. A carriage waited for them in the courtyard, and it was several hours before they were able to leave.

Meanwhile enormous crowds had assembled in the streets adjacent to the courthouse. Cordons of police kept the crowds check for an hour or more, but then lost control of them, rhe masses pushing and crushing forward to the doors with the evident intentfon of storming the entrance.

At the close of the afternoon session an important admission was brought out from Hau. After the presiding judge had closed the testimony he put various questions to the prisoner, asking him, among other things, what had become of the dark grey overcoat he wore at Badan-Baden on November 6 last.

Hau replied that he threw it overboard between Calais and Dover. The judge asked him why he did so, and he said that he did not want his wife to see it. This reply is considered of great significance, because Hau bought it in Frankfort in order to avoid the necessity of wearing his brown overcoat, which was known in Baden Baden, and which he left with his valises at the Carisruhe station.

Mrs. Molitor was shot and killed on the street in Baden-Baden, on the evening of November 6, 1906. Prof. Karl Hau, her son-in-law, was suspected from the first. He is about 26 years old. He was educated at the leading German universities and came to America in 1902. In 1904 he became Professor of Roman Law in George Washingtoh University, Washington, D. C. When Lena Molitor married Hau, in 1900, she brought him a dowry of $50,000. The couple were well known and had many friends in the intellectual society of Washington. Hau tried to borrow large sums of money from his mother-in-law, and the motive for the crime is supposed to have been the woman's money. A month ago Hau's wife, in dispair, drowned herself in a lake in Switzerland.

THE DISASTER IN THE PACIFIC.

A dispatch from Eureka, Cal., says that the best advices last night are that approximately 200 of the 249 souls on board the steamer Columbia escaped death when that vessel went to the bottom near Shelter Cove between midnight and 1 o'clock of Sunday morning in a collision with the steam schooner San Pedro. One hundred and seven of the Columbia's passengers and thirty-seven of her crew have been taken to Eureka by the steamer George W. Elder, which towed the colliding schooner San Pedro from the scene of the disaster to Eureka.

A late message from Shelter Cove says that four more lifeboats have been picked up, one of them containing 18 persons, another 15, another 16, while the number in the fourth is not reported.

Nearly all of the Columbia's passengers and many of her crew were asleep in their cabins and bunks when the crash came. As the San Pedro backed away the sea poured in through the ragged hole in the Columbia's bow above and below the water line, and in five minutes the Columbia sank to the bottom, the deep waters of Shelter Cove covering the tops of the Columbia's masts.

There were scarcely any evidences of a panic, the women acting with heroism.

When the Columbia sank she carried down with her about forty-nine passengers.

Just as the Columbia was sinking her boilers exploded. This counteracted the suction and saved many lives. Husbands and wives were separated, and fathers and mothers and children became lost to each other in the excitement when the boats collided.

Two hours after the wreck the fog lifted, and a cold wind commenced to blow. The people in the boats suffered terribly.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 23, 1907.

THERE SEEMS to be a great deal of unnecessary ado between the State cour's of North Carolina and Virginia and the federal courts over the two-cent railroad rate bill. While the Gazette is an earnest advocate of State's rights all must admit that the United States Supreme Court is the final court of settlement in the land and that as all parties to the controversy claim that they are anxious to get the case before that tribunal why, in conscience sake, don't they peacefully strive to that end and stop all this fuss and feathers. Kicking at railroads is a common practice among some people who seek political preferment or have ulterior aims, but they must recognize the fact that railroads have rights that others must respect There are millions upon millions of money invested in railroads in this country and it is the duty of those who manage these properties to protect them and the interests of those who have thus invested their money.

SENATOR HOPKINS, of Illinois, said to the reporters who met him at Oyster Bay, Wednesday, after a long conference with President Roosevelt: "I've come to the conclusion, after the talk today, that there will be no revision of the tariff until after the next presidential election. It would be suicidal to the republican party to undertake a revision of the tariff at the next session of Congress. After the election it will be done." This is the same old promise that is made by the republicans every year only to be broken the next. They will not revise the tariff before a presidential election, neither will they revise it afterwards. It is manana with them all the time so far as tariff revision is concerned.

A CONTEST which may involve no less a person than President Roosevelt, is said to be impending between the United States Senators from Massachusetts. The trouble is due to Senator Crane's determination not to be dictated to by Senator Lodge as to whom he shall support for the presidential nomination. It may result in the junior Senator being forced from both the Senate and the national committee. And if he drags his senior with him nobody but Senator Lodge would be the loser.

THE advisability of establishing a court of appeals for the trial of clergy will be one of the most important matters of business to be considered at the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, to be held in Richmond in October. This is a sad commentary on the wearers of the cloth when so many of them go wrong that courts and courts of appeal have to be established to try them. This does religion no good.

THERE IS a most luxuriant growth of weeds in the city and the authorities seem little disposed to remove them from the streets or require property owners to remove them from their gutters and sidewalks. Many little attentions about the city would give it a much more tidy appearance and make the health conditions more favorable—all at little expense but at some trouble.

THE collision on the California coast last Saturday night demonstrates afresh that when a wooden vessel and an iron one meet the later does not always fare the best.

From Washington.

[Correspondende of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, July 23.

The Department of Justice is watching with considerable interest the situation in North Carolina. Should Governor Glenn show fight against Judge Pritchard's decision of yesterday releasing the officers of the Southern Railroad all the aid at the command of the federal government will be extended. The opinion prevails here, however, that the governor will be brought to see the futility of bucking the national administration and that he will allow the case to proceed in orderly fashion to the Supreme Court of the United States. This tribunal is now in recess and will not resume its labors until October 14. Assurances have already been given that the government will ask for speedy adjudication after the appeal has been brought before the Supreme Court. If the State authorities should decide to ignore Judge Prichard's decision, and either interfere with the liberty of the men released yesterday, or proceed with the prosecution of other cases against which injunction has been issued, the Department of Justice will respond promptly to any request from the judge for assistance in enforcing his orders. Extra deputy marshals would be sworn in, and, if necessary, the War Department would be called upon for federal troops. It is known to be the desire of President Roosevelt that the case be brought to the Supreme Court of the United States and it is in furtherance of this purpose that Assistant Attorney General Sanford is now in Asheville trying to pour oil on the troubled waters.

The clash between District Judge Pritchard and the State authorities of North Carolina, over the enforcement of the state railway law, has been brought about, it is said, in opposition to the administration's wishes. Assistant Attorney General Stanford was not sent to the present seat of war at Asheville for the purpose of giving aid and comfort to Judge Pritchard as has been reported. His mission was for the express purpose of trying to induce the Southern Railway officials to withdraw their application for a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Pritchard. These statements, it is given out, are vouched for by an authority that can not be questioned. "Judge Pritchard has got the Department of Justice by the ear," declared a high government official today. "He is interfering in a matter in which his jurisdiction is questionable, and waiving a red flag of legal irrigularity in the faces of the already infuriated state officials. If he does not involve the government in a serious muss it will not be because he has not laid a perfect ground work for trouble." It is pointed out that the remedy of the aggrieved railroad officials was through the State courts of North Carolina, and that, under legal procedure, stays of prosecution could have been secured, and appeals made. Then, if not satisfied with the relief granted, the federal power could have been invoked. It is said that the State courts having taken jurisdiction of the rate cases, it is a serious question whether Judge Pritchard has not exceeded his powers. It is said that the officials of the Department of Justice are momentarily expecting a demand from Judge Pritchard for a posse of deputy marshals to enforce his orders. Acting Attorney General Russell declines to discuss the situation.

The Department of Justice is aggressively pushing its campaign peonage practices. Agents have been sent recently into Virginia to investigate complaints that men are being held in bondage in turpentine camps. Prosecutions are now being conducted in Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and Alabama. The government is being fought bitterly by the contractors, and in some cases it is charged that State authorities are lending moral support to those under indictment. The Department of Justice is eagerly awaiting a decision from the Circuit Court of Missouri, on the appeal of contractors recently found guilty of the charge of depriving citizens of the United States of their liberty. The constitutional point is clear, out there. Prosecutions in other states have been under conspiracy charges. Conditions in some sections as represented to the President and attorney general have been deplorable. One official today declared that magazine articles upon the subject, while looked upon in northern states as tinged with "yellow," have really understated the situation. It has been brought out that a man—a member of a Kentucky family of fuedists—chased men who escaped from the camps where they had been kept under surveillance, and brought them back under a shot gun guard and tied together at the waist, like cattle.

In the absence of advices from the American legation in Caracas, State Department officials do not believe that President Castro has taken exception to the awards made on American claims by the arbitration of 1903, as has been reported, on the ground that the awards were excessive. It is pointed out that of a total of more than $81,000,000 claimed, the umpires awarded less than $500,000. Among the claims thus scaled down was that of the Orinoco Steamship Company whose claim for over $7,000,000. was reduced to an award of $23,000, while another company whose claim was almost as big, was awarded only $2,400. Payments upon these awards are expected to begin at the end of the present month. In a recent note to the Venezulan government, Secretary Root submitted five additional claims of long standing, including that of the Orinoco Improvement Company, suggesting that immediate settlement be made or that the claims be submitted to arbitration. No response has been received to this note. In as much as each case involved lengthy legal argument in its presentation, it is not expected that any reply will come by wire, but a mail report is anticipated in the near future.

News of the conviction of Karl Hau, at Carlsruhe, Germany, of the murder of his mother-in-law, came as a shock to most of his friends in Washington. H. Ralph Burton, Hau's local legal representative, was not greatly surprised at the outcome, although he has all along expressed confidence in Hau's innocence. He asserts that the prisoner did not have a fair trial. "The prosecuting witnesses, the prosecuting attorney, and the presiding judge," he said today," all seem to have had an inclination to use every bit of evidence to Hau's disadvantage. Granting the verdict of the jury is right, for the sake of argument, then I say that Hau was insane at the time of the murder. He could not have committed the crime if he had been in his right mind." Concerning the possibility of action by Hau's friends in Washington, Burton said there would probably by none. "Hau is not an American citizen," said he, "and for that reason there is nothing we can do from this side. He evaded the military duty in Germany and that is held against him."

Dr. Toledo Herrarte, the Guatemalan Minister here, called today at the State Department to express his personal regrets and those of his government at the recent accident on the battleship Georgia. He declared that he had not received a cablegram from his government for a couple of weeks and, on the principle that no news is good news, he concluded that all was peaceful and quiet in his country.

Chicago has seen the last of its Labor Day parades, at least for several years to come. The annual long march through the streets by thousands of unionists was abandoned Sunday by the Federation of Labor and the Associated Building Trades, as being an "antiquated and luxurious" method of displaying labor's strength before the public. President John Fitzpatrick, of the federation, advised the unions to save the money which they would expend in buying uniforms, banners, carriages and bands, and put it into a big defense fund with which, he said, "labor may keep a stiff upper lip and talk as sancily as it pleases to employers."

SHOOTING IN GEORGIA.

William Chapman, is dead, Henry Martin is dying and the latter's sons, Arthur and Henry, are badly wounded as the result of a duel fought yesterday and caused by a feud between Chapman and Martin, who live in adjoining houses and have been at odds for weeks. Yesterday the trouble reached a climax when Martin's horse got on Chapman's lawn. Chapman threw a rock at the horses and the elder Martin shot at Chapman with a Winchester but missed him. Chapman then opened fire with a pistol, and shot the elder Marin and wounded the man's son. Chapman reloaded his pistol and started toward Martin's residence whither the wounded men had retreated. When he entered the gate of Martin's yard there was a crack of a rifle from the doorway of the Martin home, and Chapman fell dead, with a bullet in his brain. Mrs. Chapman, a bride of a month, saw her husband killed. It is said that Arthur fired the fatal shot.

Insane, Murderer.

New York, July 23.—Fighting vigorously and publictly declaring his guilt of murdering little Amelia Stafieldt, who was killed in the field near her home at Elmhurst, L. I., to escape to the ordeal facing him, Henry Becker, accused by the police of the crime, was taken today from the Queens county jail to King's hospital county to be examined as to his sanity.

THE RAILROADS AND THE STATES.

District Passenger Agent J. H. Wood of the Southern Railway, and Ticket Agent O. C. Wilson, indicted for selling railroad tickets for more than 2½ cents a mile, and sentenced to the chain gang by Police Justice Reynolds for thirty days each, were released from custody of the Asheville, N. C. Police Court yesterday by United States Circuit Court Judge Pritchard, who declared that the penalty section of the new passenger-rate law was unconstitutional.

Judge Pritchrrd holds that the enforcement of the new rate law can be enjoined because it interferes with the jurisdiction of the United States court in the case of the Southern Railway against the Corporation Commission until it is finally determined.

The judge holds that the final section of the rate law is unconstitutional because it provides penalties so enormous that the railway would be preven ted from enforcing its rights to test the law.

Judge Pritchard quoted from a letter written by Governor Glenn and declared that there was a deliberate attempt by the State authorities to interfere with the United States court. The judge declared his determination to enforce his orders.

Judge Pritchard said that the penalties inflicted by the statute would close the doors to a judicial hearing and would amount to $2,500,000 a day if the penalty was enforced on the sale of each ticket, which is eight times more than the amount involved in the original suit; also that it would do violence to the comity which exists between the State and federal courts. While not imputing any improper motives to officials of the State courts, Judge Pritchard remarked that if such a course of conduct was permitted to be pursued it would have the effect of defeating the jurisdiction of the United States courts.

Judge Pritchard in his decision referred to Gov. Glenn's letter, and said:

"If conflict must come—and I trust it will not—I shall not shirk the responsibility which is placed upon me."

Gov. Glenn will defy Judge Pritchard's decision. The governor telegraphed yesterday to counsel representing the State requesting that a postponement of the federal court decision be procured. Gov. Glenn's request was ignored by Judge Pritchard. Gov. Glenn stated that special counsel were on their way to Asheville. The governor's extra counsel arrived last night, and the next move on the part of the State is awaited with great interest.

Another sensation of the day was caused by the remarks of Judge Pritchard from the bench yesterday afternoon against Judge Reynolds, of the Ashville Police Court, who imposed sentence upon the ticket agents, and threats against others who caused the ticket agents to be arrested and intimations that he would have these men brought before him for contempt of court.

Judge Reynolds threatened to jail Judge Pritchard if he interferred with his court, and Pritchard now turns the tables.

President Finley, of the Southern Railway, and a party of officials, who arrived in Asheville a few days ago by special train, are still there and holding conferences behind closed doors.

Judge Pritchard accompanied his decision with a statement. He said:

"It would be a sad day for the people of North Carolina when its citizens are prohibited, by the acts of the legislature, from asserting any right guaranteed them by the consitution of the United States. The equal protection of the law is guaranteed every citizen of the United States, and I shall employ all means within the power of the court to secure to all persons who many invoke the jurisdiction of this court, such rights to the fullest extent of the law." Gov. Glenn says:

"I regret this conflict; I want it settled. If the railroads will acquiesce in the law then no further indictments will be made."

He declares, however, that if the railroads do not obey the law he will instruct the State's attorney to aid the solicitors of the State in securing new bills and prosecuting the railroads until they do obey the law. It is now believed that steps will be taken to prevent the execution of the sentence imposed in Raleigh Friday, when the Southern Railway agent was found guilty of selling tickets at a higher rate than provided for by law and the railway was fined $30,000.

"It is now eleven years since I had a narrow escape from consumption," writes C. O. Floyd, a leading business man of Kershaw, S. C. "I had run down in weight to 135 pounds, and coughing was constant, both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone and I was restored to my normal weight, 170 pounds." Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store.

MYSTERIOUS DROWNING.

The body of Mrs. Carl B. Core, 22 years old, a bride of but a few months, was found at the bottom of the lake at the Moundsville, W. Va., camp grounds yesterday. Considerable mystery surrounds the death of woman.

Mrs. Core and her husband, who is a clerk at the State penitentiary, at Moundsville, had been spending the summer at the camp grounds, making their home in a cottage near the lake. On Sunday night they retired to their room after a very pleasant evening spent on the lake.

Mr. Core states that the last he saw of his wife alive was when she was standing in front of the mirror in the room letting down her hair. At 5 o'clock yesterday morning the husband awakened and found his wife missing. He immediately gave the alarm, and a search was made for the woman. A number of campers dived into the lake and about noon located the body in 35 feet of water. It was taken ashore.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Today's Telegraphic News.

The Wreck of the Steamer Columbia.

San Francisco, July 23.—The full story of the wreck of the steamer Columbia in her collision with the schooner San Pedro is slowly coming in from various points on the coast where survivors have landed.

The death list may not be so large as at first reported, it being learned today that 177 of the 249 souls aboard the Columbia escaped death. Three life boats, thought to have foundered at sea, have been picked up. One contained eighteen and one fifteen persons. The number in the third is not reported.

A number of the survivors rescued are eastern teachers, who sought diversion in a sea voyage after the meeting of the national association at Los Angeles.

Later reports have again thrown doubt on the number of life boats bearing survivors which were saved. This also tends to cast the same doubt on the reports that 177 persons have been saved. It is now denied that more than one life boat was picked up. It contained sixteen survivors and the bodies of two victims.

Six life boats and three life rafts, loaded to the limit, were cut loose. Until all are accounted for it will be impossible to tell the exact number saved. Even then a few persons who were able to cling to wreckage may still have been picked up by steamers which will carry them to other ports.

Third Coachman in Hartje Case.

Pittsburg, July 24.—When the Hartje case is reopened the first week in September another coachman will be named in the litigation between Augustus Hartje, the millionaire paper manufacturer, who was refused a divorce by Judge Frazier, and his wife, Mary Scott Hartje. The man's name is Mitchell, and he was employed by the Hartje family just after "Tom" Madine, named as co-respondent by Hartje, left his employ.

During the trial of William DeCosta, a negro, convicted of perjury in the Hartje case, George Mitchell, an Englishman, was called by the commonwealth and testified that he was in the employ of the family and had taken Mrs. Hartje to her mother's on a day when DeCosta swore she was visiting his tailor shop. This Englishman will be the third coachman named in the case. Hooe, the negro, now in the penitentiary, was the first. Tom Madine, the Irish coachman, was the second.

Missing Yacht.

Newport, R. I., July 23.—Friends of Harold Vanderbilt are greatly wrought up over the failure of his yacht, Trivia, on which he and three companions were cruising, to appear at Jamestown, Va., where she was due last week. Despite the fact that Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, mother of the young millionaire, issued a statement saying she had information regarding his whereabouts, it is known that every effort is being made to get some trace of the small craft which was seen last at Annapolis on Thursday. Vanderbilt sailed from New London, July 20 for Jamestown, taking the "inside route" by way of the Raritan canal, Delaware river, the Delaware and Chesapeake canal and Chesapeake bay. Captain Crowley, of the Trivia, who was ill when the yacht left New London, went to Jamestown to meet her, but so far has not even found a vessel who sighted her. Many are of the opinion that the young men are exploring one of the many inlets of the bay.

Hau Preparing His Appeal.

Carlsruhe, Germany, July 23.—Attorneys for Carl Hau, the former Washington, D. C., law professor, whom a jury found guilty yesterday of murdering his mother-in-law, Frau Molitor, are already preparing their client's appeal.

Hau remains as composed as when he listened to the death sentence. He had a conference with his legal advisors today in which he showed the utmost alertness and self-possession, suggesting several important points on which apparent errors by the prosecution may furnish grounds for setting aside the verdict against him.

The popular sentiment against the Molitors is so intense that all are compelled to remain indoors under guard.

Victim of Leprosy.

Boston, July 23.—The state board of health today confirmed the report that the young woman who was removed to the General Hospital after being employed as a domestic in some of the wealthiest families of Boston, is a victim of leprosy. She will be removed tomorrow to the leprosy colony at Penikez Island, off the coast, near New Bedford. The patient, whose name is concealed, had been under treatment during the past year for skin disease before the real nature of her affliction was discovered. This is the sixth case of leprosy discovered in Boston and the vicinity during the past twelve months.

New York, July 23.—Nellie Eides, aged 18, said to be the daughter of a wealthy parents living in Bridgeport, Conn., tried to commit suicide in a furnished room in Brooklyn today by taking carbolic acid. Neighbors gave her milk to drink and with the aid of an ambulance surgeon saved her life. William Mascott, aged 23, who told the Herbert street police of the girl's deed, is held a prisoner. It is alleged that Mascott persuaded the girl to run away from her home, promising to marry her when they reached New York. Because the marriage was not performed the girl became despondent.

The Railroad Rate Fight.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 23—Although President Roosevelt is closely following the developments of the North Carolina Railroad rate court fight, it was announced by Secretary Loeb today that no statement would be issued by the executive, who has turned the whole matter over to Attorney General Bonaparte, expecting the latter to safeguard the government's interests. After Assistant Attorney General Sanford makes his report on the matter to Mr. Bonaparte, the latter will probably submit an opinion to the President, and if the latter deems this of general interest he will make it public.

Young Woman Murdered.

New York, July 23.—Esther Norling, a pretty 20-year-old girl, was shot dead near the corner of Forty-second street, and Fifth avenue at the time of the heaviest down town rush today by Chas. Warner, her former employer. Miss Norling, a cashier for W. C. White, had just entered a store with A. S. Spicer, a clerk. As Spicer stood at the door for a moment a stranger slipped past him and fired once at the girl who dropped crying: "Charley Warner has shot me," and expired in an instant. Warner escaped in the crowd.

After shooting the girl Warner made his way through an angry mob into the Spaulding building. When the police followed he fired at them from an upper floor and escaped by a fire escape mingling in the crowd and getting away.

While the detectives and police were searching the city for the man who had eluded them after shooting the girl, Frank Warner walked hurriedly into the store of John C. Wilson, who is a haberdasher. He asked Wilson to loan him $10. Warner formerly was a haberdasher also.

Wilson said he was surprised to know that he was in such circumstances. As Wilson arose and turned his back to get the money Warner shot him twice in the back and fled.

After committing the second crime Warner was followed by police and an angry crowd. After racing to Green and Washington streets he was struck down by a longshoreman who wielded a truckman's hook. The crowd following jumped upon the alleged assassin and beat him almost to death before he was rescued by the police and taken to Bellevue Hospital.

Miss Norling, it is said, was formerly employed by Warner as his cashier. She is said to have told her acquaintances that Warner had caused her much uneasiness recently by attempting to force undesirable attentions upon her.

So far the police have been unable to get a clear idea of the motive that might have led Warner to plan a double attack, if he went into Wilson's store with the preconceived intention of shooting him. The fact that all three of the persons involved were connected with the haberdashery buisness is considered a connecting link upon which it may be possible to base a sequence of deduction.

No Hugging in Waltzes.

Omaha, Neb., July 23.—There is to be no hugging in waltzes and other round dances in fashionable social circles in Omaha. The dancing masters of this city, according to an announcement made by one of them today, have signed an agreement not to teach hugging by pupils at their academies and not to premit it by pupils or others who may attend the "hops" given under their auspices. They will hereafter teach their pupils to preserve a more or less formal attitude when on the floor. The new and correct position, the masters say, will be an improvement on the old, so far as gracefulness is concerned. The gentleman will lightly rest his right hand on his partner's back, his left gently clutching the tips or her fingers. Her left hand will be gently rested on his right forearm, and both bodies will be held erect.

To Deport Undesirable Citizens.

New York, July 23.—As a first step in the night the police will try to rid New York of undesirable citizens whom Commissioner Bingham blames for the recent epidemic of crimes against women and for black hand outrages, and effort will be made deport Giuzhi Pellette and Giouvanni, arrested today on a charge of attempted extortion. Detective Petrosini says the men were desperate criminals in Italy years before they came here. How they got by the immigration authorities he cannot understand. Now he will fight to have them sent back to Italy. They were members of a gang led by Barsalons, an Italian brigand, who for years terrorized the country about Palermo, Italy. The immediate crime charged against the men is sending a letter to Antonis Capace, threatening to blow up his home unless he gave them $1,000.

The Haywood Trial.

Boise, Idaho, July 23.—Orchard was a witness yesterday in the Haywood trial and is on the stand again today at the preliminary hearing of Dr. I. L. McGee, the defense's witness, who is charged with having swore falsely that he met Orchard at Wallace at a time when the latter said he was elsewhere on a mission of blood for the miners' federation. C. W. Aller, another of the defense's witnesses arrested on a perjury accusation, was bound over to the District Court yesterday.

Impeachment of testimony of Harry Orchard was the principal part of Attorney Richardson's argument for the defense today.

The court took a recess until six o'clock this evening when Richardson will resume his argument.

Providence, R. I. July 23.—Although he declares that the shooting was accidental, Wm. Skeffington was arrested early today charged with killing Mrs. Annie Skeffington, his sister-in-law. According to the prisoner he and Mrs. Skeffington were examining an old revolver which they supposed was not loaded.

Conductor Assumes Responsibility.

Detroit, Mich, July 23.—Conductor Hamilton, in charge of the freight train whose collision with a Pere Marquette train Saturday cost more than thirty lives, formally accepts responsibility for the wreck. "The engineer, the fireman, the brakeman and myself all read the order to clear Salem at 9:25, whereas the order shows that was the hour for clearing Plymouth. The mistake gave us insufficient time to make Salem, and caused the wreck," he says. Engineer Lee Alford, of the passenger engine, is in a serious condition. He is delirious parts of the time and sits up in bed going through every motion he took when he saw the freight train and death loom up ahead of him. Then he will cry, "My God, the women and children!" Doctors are in constant attendance and every means known are being used to save his life.

LEE'S FAMILY CHINA STOLEN.

A dispatch from New York says Shearman and Sterling, attorneys, are seeking the arrest and conviction of persons who took from packing boxes stored in a warehouse at Neuilly, France, a service of hand-painted French china which formerly belonged to the Lee family of Virginia. A reward of $1,000 is offered for evidence bearing on the theft. The china is described as sufficient in quantity for twelve persons. It was decorated with a green band and gilt figures with the crest of the Lee family, a squirrel on a bough, and the motto, "Non incautus futuri." It is said to have disappeared between 1898 and 1905, and the reason for offering the reward in New York is that the china is believed to have been brought to the United States.

DISORDERS.

Guy Wood was arrested this morning by Officer Henderson charged with assaulting James Gorman on north Fairfax street last night. The accused was bought before the Police Court this morning, but, in the absence of certain witnesses, it was necessary to continue the case.

John Trumbull and George Hicks were arrested by Officers Lyles and Gill charged with fighting in a saloon in the northeastern section of the city last Saturday night. When brought before the Police Court this morning the alleged combatants said they had no recollection of fighting and maintained that they were unacquainted with each other. Both bore evidence on their faces of having been engaged in a fight. As no witnesses of the affray conld be found, the accused were dismissed.

Between nine and ten o'clock last night a row occurred on the old fair grounds on upper King street between some negroes, during which two shots were fired. Officer Lyles went to the scene and arrested Winfield Major, James Dixon and Margaret Lake. They were fined $5 each in the Police Court this morning. The woman posed some time ago as the wife of the negro Robinson who disappeared from this city after the killing of Charles T. Smith last October.

FLEET REPULSED.

Shortly after 8 o'clock last night the "hostile fleet," consisting of more or less formidable vessels representing one first class battle ship and four cruisers, attempted to slip past Fort Washington and get into Washington. The plan was a complete failure. The squadron had made but little headway when it was discovered and an alarm sounded. Thereafter for about thirty-five minutes a "hail of projectiles" was directed at the vessels, which it is assumed were riddled and sunk. The squadron consist of the government dispatch boat Alonzo Cushing and four barges. Numbers of people of this city repaired to the southeastern section for the purpose of watching the searchlights and the glare from the guns during the progress of the battle.

Tonight the men will be given a taste of "warfare." At Fort Hunt, a large detachment of infantry will make a landing some where along the shore, and attempt to capture the fort.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Mark Vines, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear.

John W. Dove, charged with disposing of corn upon which a levy had been made, had his case continued.

Margaret Lake, Winfield Major and James Dixon, all colored, charged with disorderly conduct, were fined $5 each

John Trumbull and George Hicks, charged with fighting, were dismissed.

John Goram, charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

Alfred Smith, charged with disorderly conduct was dismissed.

CHARGES MADE.

At a meeting in Washington last night of the Central Labor Union there was a discussion of the difficulties between the Alexandria branch of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electrical Railway Employes and the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railroad Company. Sam De Nedrey, secretary of the union, made the charge that transcripts of the minutes of the organization had been furnished to the officials of the railroad company. This information, he said, was given him on good authority, and the result was that members of the association could not obtain employment on the street car companies of either Washington or Baltimore. The question of a boycott of the road was discussed, but not acted upon.

COUNTY NOTES.

A meeting of the school board of Alexandria county will be held at the courthouse August 1 to settle the school accounts for the last fiscal year and to discuss the proposition to erect two new school buildings in the county.

The board of supervisors met at the courthouse yesterday and decided to lay a levy of 50 cents for road improvements, 40 cents for public schools, and 25 cents for general expenses, making a total tax of $1.15 for each $100 of valuation in the county. This is a decrease of 10 cents from the levy for the last fiscal year.

TO FIGHT OPEN SHOP.

The Central Labor Union, of Washington, last night adopted a resolution calling for the meeting of one representative of each of the building trades in the District of Columbia not later than August 1, to consider concerted action against the open shop. It was moved that a communication be sent to the Elks presenting the building mechanics' grievance. It was charged that the Elks' new building in Washington is being constructed with the aid of non-union men.

CONTRACT AWARDED.

The committee on schoolhouses and furniture of the City School Board has awarded the contract to Mr. W. J. Deavers, for making the necessary repairs to the school buildings. The work will be commenced at once and will be completed in ample time for the occupancy of the schools in September.

A PROPHECY.

An Alexandrian, who has not seen much of his native place for a number of years, amused himself Sunday evening by sauntering around the wharves and watching the steamers and smaller vessels and boats moving up and down the river. He tells us that he could not but be surprised at the great number of children, from boys and girls approaching maturity to little babies in their cradle carriages, and prophesies that in less than thirty years, Alexandria, instead of 15,000, will have a population of 30,000, without counting the many strangers who will be drawn to it by its prosperity. It is earnestly hoped the esteemed Alexandrian referred to above is correctly discerning the signs of the times.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING.

A letter was received here yesterday giving an account of the narrow escape from drowning at Cape Henry ten days ago of Misses Lucy Douglas and Lila Barrett, of this city, who were in bathing there. They were caught in the surf and were striving to reach shore when Mr. Jack Barrett, brother of one of the young ladies, happened to come on the beach and, seeing the plight of his sister and her companion, swam to their assistance with all his clothing on and rescued them from drowning. When the young ladies were brought ashore both were greatly exhausted and some time elapsed before they fully revived.

DEATH OF MRS. WASHINGTON.

Mrs. Sallie Foote Washington, widow of George Washington, in years gone by a prominent merchant of this city, died this morning at 9:30 o'clock at her home, No. 314 south Patrick street, aged 76 years. Mrs. Washington was a daughter of the late John Whitney Massie, of Fauquier, and had lived in this city nearly fifty years. She had been in ill health for many years past and for a long time had been confined to her home. She leaves two sons.

LUNA PARK.

An entire change of bill, so far as the music and free vaudeville is concerned, is in evidence at Luna Park, and because of their pronounced merit, both are attracting and drawing large crowds

The Grenadier Guards Band opened Sunday with a programme of diversified music that caught on from the start. Reginald Herbert has the genuine swing of the true conductor and manages the men under him without any unnecessary ado or uncalled for pomp. The solo musicians with the aggregation are all that could be asked for in this direction, showing visible traces of painstaking and much study.

That restless and captivating creature, Madame Loubet, who shoots through space with the rapidity of a skyrocket and makes a revolution in a loop with hurricane-like speed, will present her famous looping the loop specially twice daily throughout the week.

The management announces its intention to give one-half thousand dollars to any one who can guess closest to the exact number of electric light bulbs used within the park's enclosure.

A large attendance is anticipated July 24th, the date on which the Alexandria Camp, Modern Woodmen of America, have selected for their outing at the park.

August 3rd, will be known as Sunday school day, on which occasion, between the hours of one and four o'clock, the park's concessions will be thrown open to children, free of charge. The invitation is extended to Alexandria and Washington children, and it is an assured fact that a large percentage of Sunday school children from the above named cities will take advantage of Manager Goodfellow's thoughtful offer.

A PROMPT REMEDY.

Sick almost unto death, Danie McIlwyn, awoke in an Omaha hospital Saturday to find that the occupant of the other bed in his ward had died during night. The sight of the corpse proved a more effective remedy than any the physicians had found, for McIlwyn immediately forgot his own ailment, called for the clothes he had not used for a month, hurriedly dressed and left the place, a walking certificate of health. McIlwyn was suffering from a severe case of stomach trouble. He had not eaten for two days, and was in a high fever when he went to sleep a few hours before. Although he had been in the hospital on and off for several years, this was the first time McIlwyn had seen a corpse.

TWINS BORN FIVE DAYS APART

Frank and James Pasqua are twins. But their birthdays do not occur on the same day. To be twins and have birthdays five days apart is the anomalous future awaiting these lads. Sunday morning a week ago Mrs. Pasqua, wife of an employe at the Superior plant of the Connellsville Coal and Coke Company at Pittsburg, gave birth to Frank. Friday morning James arrived. The case is regarded as most unusual. Instances of twins being born one day apart have been repeatedly recorded, but a difference of five days is regarded by physicians to be almost incredible.

The August Everybody's Magazine, which has been received from its publishers in New York, is a midsummer number, offering inviting reading for vacation days. Under the title of "Where did you get it, gentlemen?" the sources of some of our "swollen fortunes" are investigated, Booth Tarkington writes amusingly on "Some Americans abroad," and a pictorial feature is "The mystery of bird-flight" in which is thrown new light on the problem of aerial navigation. The fiction feature of this issue is an exquisite Japanese story called "White Iris" and there are ten other short stories with themes of love, humor and adventure, besides an instalment of Lloyd Osbourne's serial.

The August Metropolitan has been received from its publishers in New York. It is the midsummer holiday number combining entertaining and important articles with the best fiction. "The crime of uneducated eating" makes startling reading. "The call of another world" is most astonishing, and "The future of transportation" considers recent inventions. The instalment of the "Mexican War" describes the conquest of California and the southwest. A critical appreciation of Anders Zorn is given with reproduction of his etchings. Other articles, eight short stories and verse above the average complete this holiday number.

MERCHANT MURDERED.

As he stepped out on the sidewalk from his store, on east Seventeenth street, near Union Square, New York, yesterday, Hoohaness Tavshanjian, a wealthy rug importer and Persian commissioner to the Chicago World's Fair, in 1893, was shot from behind and almost instantly killed. The assassin, a shabbily dressed Armenian, who was arrested after a chase of several blocks, declared, according to the police, that he went to New York from Chicago especially to kill the merchant. The prisoner described himself as Beros Hampartzoomian, 24 years old, of Chicago.

According to the police the prisoner declared that he killed Tavshanjian because the merchant had refused to contribute for the financing of a revolution in Armenia against Turkish rule.

The shooting occurred at a busy hour of the day in the heart of the crowded shopping district and caused much excitement. The assassin was pursued by bystanders, and when close pressed he turned and fired on them with a revolver, seriously wounding one man. He was captured and overpowered by several policemen.

Business associates of Tavshanjian say that the merchant had often received letters from a secret Armenian revolutionary society demanding financial aid for a proposed revolution under penalty of death, and that the prisoner was seen on several occasions in the last few months conversing with Tavshanjian at his store.

Stricken Family.

New York, July 23.—Forced to strike against his will, Michael Galvin, a longshoreman, with his family, was almost starved to death when found by charity workers today in Brooklyn. They had been forced to subsist upon flour and water made into hard dough for two days. His savings exhausted and his 11-year-old daughter dead, the poor children of the neighborhood having sold lemonade to provide for the funeral expenses, Galvin tried unavailingly to find work, but finally became so weak from hunger and heat that he could not leave his squalid one-room home. His aged wife was ill. The strike which caused him to lose his job was settled weeks ago.

The master teamsters have agreed to pay the men an additional $1 a week and shorten the working time half an hour a day, but they still refuse to deal directly with the unions.
